

USA TODAY/GALLUP POLL

3. Based on what you know about it, do you think President Obama's speech last night signaled a major change in the types of policies he will pursue in the next year, or not

	Yes, did	No, did not	No opinion
2011 Jan 27	34	4	1

4. As you may know, during the president's speech many Republican and Democratic members of Congress sat with members of the opposition party. Do you think this is or is not a sign that the two parties will be more willing to work with each other this year

	Yes, is a sign	No, is not	No opinion
2011 Jan 27	44	0	0

Which proposal for government spending do you favor more ROTATED President Obama's proposal to freeze discretionary domestic spending for the next five years (or) Congressional Republicans' proposal to cut discretionary domestic spending back to 2008 levels

Obama's five-year freeze